

Work-Life Employee Discounts

Work-Life employee discount programs are of general consumer interest and ALL State employees are eligible. Products or services purchased and any arrangements agreed upon are strictly between the individual employee and the service vendor. The State of Colorado assumes no obligation or liability and does not endorse any of the products, services, or discount service providers.

As any informed consumer, you are encouraged to shop and compare prices and services before buying.

All permanent state employees are eligible for these discounts; however, limitations on participation may exist for those specific employees directly and significantly involved in the procurement process. Please consult your purchasing director for guidance.
